

Privacy Statement

Lawyers Alliance respects the privacy of all visitors to this website. No personal details are gathered via this website. Lawyers Alliance does not use so-called cookies. We do not therefore gather information about your visits, your IP address or browser.

This website does however offer the possibility to react, for example in order to contact us directly. If you react via e-mail, we will obviously use some of your details (your name and address or e-mail address) to service your request. Here also we will respect your privacy. The details provided by you will be used only to service your request and for further reference purposes. Your details will not be stored or used for other purposes.